

REMOTE SIMULTANEOUS INTERPRETING

In an increasingly globalised World,

we offer new technological solutions to support interpreting services

Restrictions due to COVID-19 and the new trends have prompted us to seek new solutions for our customers who do not want to miss out on networking. In fact, thanks to the help of remote interpreters, it is now possible to stay connected with the world, without giving up on organising events and online training.

Quality does not change but only the way it is provided. We can offer you the best interpreting services via telephone or specific platforms, so you no longer have to cancel strategic events and conventions for your business.

IMAGINE - Experience and quality at your service!
